WESTERN RED CEDAR

Cedar is one of the longest lasting natural woods and the most durable. This makes it the best material for outdoor buildings.

We use Western red cedar as our base material in most of our spa enclosures for its outstanding qualities.

Its durability comes from its unique composition. Being from the gymnosperm family, its wood is conditioned to be incredibly strong and to hold up in all weather conditions. The natural aromatic oil in cedar makes it an excellent repellent to insects and protects it from fungi and other bacteria. The fragrant oil also protects the wood enabling it to resist rot. These points make it ideal for a hot tub enclosure.

The wood stays cool throughout the summer and, if coated with a quality transparent stain, will retain its warm amber colour for years to come. If left to age naturally, the cedar will become a beautiful silver grey colour.

METAL ROOFING

Our metal roofs have been expertly designed for durability and flair. A metal roof will not decompose and can withstand all weathers.

The 'Duraclad' metal is strong and durable and is used in most of our gazebos, creating a long lasting and virtually maintenance free roof. It is available in different colours enabling you to match your existing structures.

The roof arrives in pre-assembled panels making this easy to erect.

PAINTED PINE POSTS

The painted pine posts used in our Vista Pavilion series allow for a neutral colour to blend into the newer style homes. Strong and durable, they boost the natural flow of the architectural design into the structures creating a softer merge with the metal roof and powder coated railings.
